TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SALE

Terms and conditions of sale are the same as in our 1959 Camellia catalog.

DESCRIPTIONS OF VARIETIES

Refer to our 1959 catalog (second printing "1959-60") for descriptions of varieties, plus illustrations in color of eight top favorites. Write us for "illustrated Camellia catalog" if you would like a copy. Complete growing instructions are included.

For those varieties not listed in our 1959 catalog, we refer you to Camellia Nomenclature published by the Southern California Camellia Society, which is our nomenclature guide. We can supply copies of the 1958 edition, or the 1960 edition after it is published in January, for $1.50 each postpaid. Please specify if you wish the new edition.

FREIGHT SAVING ON LARGE ORDERS

Motor freight is about half the cost of Railway Express for shipments weighing over 100 pounds. However, we cannot ship by motor freight during the months of May through September because of excessive heat in the unventilated vans. We also advise against shipments going north by motor freight during the months of December, January, and February.

Railway Express shipments are protected from heat and cold, but shipments in December are often delayed by the Christmas rush.

EXIT TWO SIZES

We are no longer listing the quart size and the 1 to 1½ ft. size in 4-gal. can.

The quart size was hardly better than the pot size, but weighed four times as much. We find we can grow an excellent one-year plant in a 3-inch pot. These will usually bloom the following year when transplanted or moved to a larger container.

The 1 to 1½-ft. plant in a 4-gal. can was no better than the 15-20" size in a 2-gal. can, so we discontinued it. We are becoming increasingly aware of what an excellent plant can be grown in a 2-gal. can.

PAGE NUMBERS

Pages are numbered from 9 through 24 to conform with the arrangement in our illustrated 1959 catalog. You may remove pages 9-24 in the 1959 catalog, and insert the new prices.

SPARKLING BURGUNDY

This year's winner of the All-American Camellia Selections is a new variety of the Sasanqua type, SPARKLING BURGUNDY (Pat. No. 1539). Originated by Rene Casadahan, Abita Springs, La., this promises to be the most widely acceptable of the AACS selections so far. The flowers are said to be very large for a Sasanqua—about 3½ to 4 inches—and are variously described as ruby rose and wine. If it is a cross between HINDODE-GUMO and SHOWA-NO-SAKAE, the variety would be a hybrid, since the latter is of the hiemalis species rather than sasanqua. The blooms are fully double in an informal way. Our gallon and 2-gallon plants were nicely budded and beginning to bloom October 1st.

Pot	$ 2.50
Gal. Can	6.00
2-gal. Can	10.00

Most good Camellias, old and new, are not patented and therefore are not eligible to be "All-America Camellia" selections. BUDDHA, the 1958 selection, is a Reticulata type and not suitable for outdoor culture except in areas like Southern California. SWEETHEART, the 1959 selection and a Japonica variety, is a sport of BLEICHROEDER PINK, and very similar to it, though lighter in color. We offer a blooming size SWEETHEART (patented) for $8.50; the same size BLEICHROEDER PINK (not patented) is $3.00. We offer the 1957 selection, CINDERELLA, a japonica variety, in seven sizes from 95c up.

CAMELLIAS IN HAMPERS

Most of our 4-5' size plants are being shipped in bushel hampers. We place these plants in the container well in advance of shipment, and little risk is involved. After the crate is dismantled, the plant is set into the ground hamper and all. This way, the roots are not disturbed. The hamper of course rots away very rapidly. The rim should be left above ground, both to provide a temporary reservoir for water, and to allow for a little settling. It can be pulled off in a few weeks.

NEW LARGER SIZE

This year, we are introducing a 5-6' size in our mail order catalog. Heretofore, we limited sales of plants this large to customers at the nursery. However, with the use of a square cypress box we can dig these plants well in advance of shipment, get them established in the box, and ship by common carrier, using the box as the base of the crate. After removing the top part of the crate, the box is then set in the ground without disturbing the roots. The sides are easily pried off after planting. Weight is about 300 pounds.

THE SHOW WINNERS

All Camellias — old, new, patented, not patented — compete in the Camellia Shows throughout the Camellia area. The more widely grown varieties have an advantage over those in limited culture, since more blooms are available. Mid-season varieties also have an advantage because most shows are held at that season. However, these non-commercial awards comprise the best index available of the showiest flowers. They do not take into account growth factors.

THE TOP TEN—1958-59

Show winners from the 1958-59 shows have been tabulated, and the top winners are as follows:

	Total Awards	"Under Glass"*
1. TOMORROW	17	9
2. VILLE DE NANTES	12	2
3. DRAMA GIRL	9	2
4. DONCKELARI	7

*The quantity "under glass" includes California awards since freezing is seldom a factor in California shows.

THE TEN BEST

It is interesting to note the varieties tabulated as being the "ten best" by officers and directors of the American Camellia Society. This list was reported in the 1958 American Camellia Yearbook, and contains eleven varieties due to a tie for tenth place. They are, in order, TOMORROW, VILLE DE NANTES, MATHOTIANA SUPREME, R. L. WHEELER, DAIKAGURA, ADOLPHE AUDUSSON, MRS. D. W. DAVIS, DR. TINSLEY, DEBUTANTE, ELIZABETH LE BEY, AND MRS. BALDWIN WOOD. For purposes of the tabulation, color variations of a variety have been grouped together under the original variety. For example, the votes for THELMA DAIE and CHARLOTTE BRADFORD were added to the total of MRS. BALDWIN WOOD. There is only one patented variety in the group.
